

The Church of St. John (Lefkakia)

Written by Administrator

Monday, 31 January 2011 10:29 - Last Updated Thursday, 27 February 2014 20:08

On the south side of the village, Lefkakia, there is a place of worship, known as the Chapel of St. John the Baptist.

It can be chronologically placed during the reign of the Tsak structure with a tiled roof.

The chapel's interior is an icon-painted one, but little is known of the artist or the date.

Tradition has it that sick children are transported through a window on the north side,

The exact location of the Map Church can be tracked in the section:

The Church of St. John (Lefkakia)

Written by Administrator

Monday, 31 January 2011 10:29 - Last Updated Thursday, 27 February 2014 20:08

The Church of St. John (Lefkakia)

Written by Administrator

Monday, 31 January 2011 10:29 - Last Updated Thursday, 27 February 2014 20:08

